

Business continuity in Covid-19 times

Success story

6,000 employees switched to working from home within 48 hours

Digital first is in our DNA

Small enough to be agile, big enough to keep your business running

THE CHALLENGE

Transferring an entire company to working from home within 48 hours

- Maintaining efficient teamwork. Reduced face-to-face interaction can lead to a lack of clarity
- Keeping productivity up. A system with appropriate metrics that allow you to closely monitor productivity is crucial to success when working from home.
- Overcoming IT infrastructure constraints. Increased traffic can slow VPN access and restrict access to critical tooling
- Fulfilling diverse international legal requirements on working from home
- Learning to use new tools and systems

THE SOLUTION

GFT goes virtual

- Global delivery: Scaled up from 43 locations to almost 6,000
- Agile teams and DevOps practices prove indispensable in aligning technology with business problems, maintaining consistent communications and keeping track of progress.
- Working from home was already widely used at GFT even before the Covid-19 pandemic.
- Client communications through regular virtual meetings enable issues to be raised. Milestones are achieved, maintaining client trust and loyalty.

THE BENEFIT

Delivering as normal in a time of great difficulty

- Delivered several complex projects during transition phase
- No downtime
- Client productivity boosted
- Delivered on time and in budget
- Quality and security standards maintained

Business continuity

We managed the transition to working fully from remote without any downtime.

Let us help you do the same.
